Terms and Conditions

2026

By commissioning me, you agree to the following:

- Commissioner pays for any shipping expenses related to their commission (only applies to physical goods).
- Any work I make is for private or personal use only unless discussed between both parties.
- I own all rights to my work. As the artist, I am permitted to use it for my needs such as portfolios, unless discussed between both parties.
- You must credit me as the artist (Colton Isaac Young or my username) whenever my work is showcased or used.
- I have the right to decline any commissions I feel I cannot execute properly.
- No refunds.
- No one is permitted to make my work an NFT (Non-Fungible Token). Any commissions or pre-existing work cannot be converted to an NFT by anyone.
- I absolutely do NOT consent to anyone, company, or entity using my art to promote/train/or generally used with or for AI. This includes inputting it into an AI software.

Further Terms:

- I aim to complete a commission within 30 days (one month) of accepting it. But circumstances may change due to changes in my schedule or personal life that can cause delays in completion. You will be informed of any delays relating to completion time.
- You are required to pay the first half of the payment before I begin the commission. This acts as collateral. You will pay the other half after receiving the commission.

- You will be required to pay for any materials explicitly bought for your commission (ex, certain canvas size, paints, brushes, etc)
- Work-in-progress sketches may be sent and asked for. However, any changes to the original commission agreed upon will affect the final prices. (such as adding another subject or detail to a painting)
